

4th Annual Calvin College
Philosophy Conference

May 4 & 5, 2012

Sponsored by Calvin College Philosophy Symposium,
Calvin College Philosophy Department, Grand Valley State University

4th Annual
Calvin College
Undergraduate Philosophy Conference

Keynote Speakers
Jill North & Ted Sider
Cornell University

Friday, May 4
Willow Room, Prince Conference Center

- 3:00-3:30 Reception
- 3:30-4:30 Stephen Marrone
Session 1 (University of Chicago)
"Can People Really Fly?"
Distinguishing Fictional Truths from Veritable Facts in the World"
Comments: Kathleen O'Bannon (Calvin College)
Session chair: Ryan Beck
- 4:45-5:45 Jacob Heim
Session 2 (Southern Virginia University)
"A Dual-Justification Account of Knowledge"
Comments: Paul Manata (Calvin College)
Session chair: Landon Oakes
- 7:00 Jill North
Keynote (Cornell University)
"The Structure of a Quantum World"

Saturday May 5
Willow Room, Prince Conference Center

- 9:30-10:00 Coffee and Donuts
- 10:00-11:00 Matthew Yaw
Session 3 (Mercyhurst College)
"Art as Transport: Toward A New Theory of Art"
Comments: Ryan Austin (Huntington University)
Session chair: Yunus Prasetya
- 11:15-12:15 Ronnie Santana
Session 4 (University of St. Thomas)
"Artifact Persistence Under the Thought of Thomas Aquinas"
Comments: Noah Frens (Calvin College)
Session chair: Scott Wolcott
- 12:15 Lunch
- 2:00-3:00 Meng Zhang
Session 5 (Cornell University)
"James Robert Brown and John D. Norton:
Two Views on the Epistemological Role of Thought Experimentation"
Comments: Benjamin Nivison
Session chair: Jonas Charlestin
- 3:15-4:15 Alison Mirin
Session 6 (Mills College)
"Aristotle and the Future Sea Battle"
Comments: Kevin Murphy (GVSU)
Session chair: Yemi Dada-Daodu
- 7:00 Ted Sider
Keynote (Cornell University)
"Against Parthood"